

CAPITAL AREA NA

Have you heard about the Home Group Speaker Swap?

No...what is that?

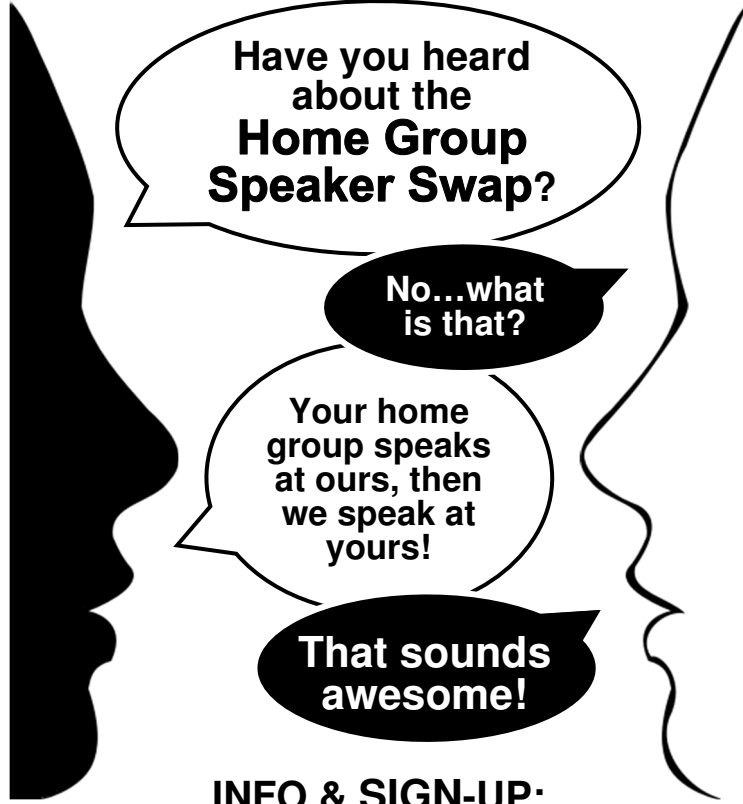

Your home group speaks at ours, then we speak at yours!

That sounds awesome!

INFO & SIGN-UP:
CapitalAreaNCNA.com/HGSS

CAPITAL AREA NA

Have you heard about the Home Group Speaker Swap?

No...what is that?

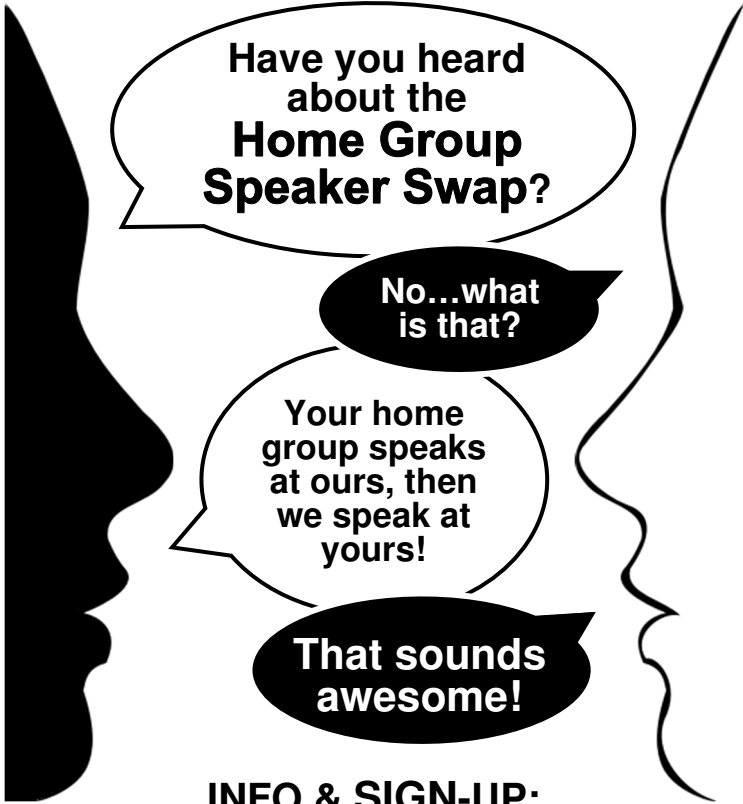

Your home group speaks at ours, then we speak at yours!

That sounds awesome!

INFO & SIGN-UP:
CapitalAreaNCNA.com/HGSS

CAPITAL AREA NA

Have you heard about the Home Group Speaker Swap?

No...what is that?

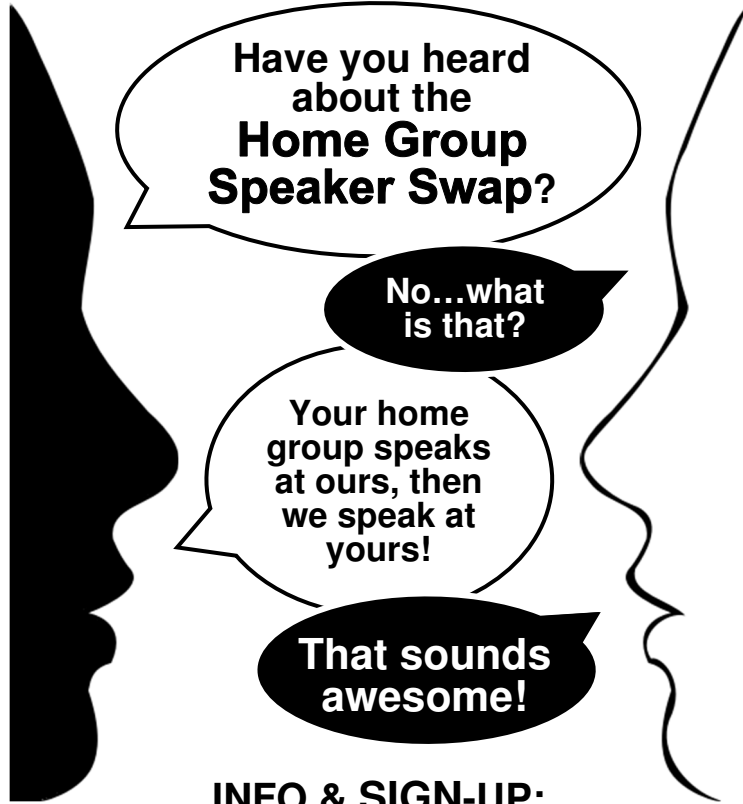

Your home group speaks at ours, then we speak at yours!

That sounds awesome!

INFO & SIGN-UP:
CapitalAreaNCNA.com/HGSS

CAPITAL AREA NA

Have you heard about the Home Group Speaker Swap?

No...what is that?

Your home group speaks at ours, then we speak at yours!

That sounds awesome!

INFO & SIGN-UP:
CapitalAreaNCNA.com/HGSS

A Tale of Two Home Groups

Once upon a time there were two home groups: Unity and Diversity. They were part of a large NA area with so many meetings you might never get to them all.

One day, at Unity's home group business meeting, a home group member shared, "I have this flier about some kind of Home Group Speaker Swap. Should we try it?" After some discussion they decided to try it.

So they came up with some dates they could host another home group and some days that at least some of them could travel to another meeting, and then they signed up for the Home Group Speaker Swap at www.CapitalAreaNCNA.com/HGSS.

A week later Unity got an email with a list of other home groups that had signed up, and noticed that the Diversity home group was on the list. Since no one in Unity had ever been to Diversity or knew any of their members (it was all the way across town), they decided to contact them and arrange a swap. Soon the two groups agreed on dates, and both were very excited.

When Unity members finally spoke at Diversity and vice versa they had to get a bit creative. Neither had ever had a speaker meeting before, and having multiple speakers in one meeting was unusual for this area. But in the end, it went great! The members of Unity and Diversity felt connected to each other, the area, and NA as a whole, in a way they had never felt before!

'Let's do it again!' was the group conscience at the next business meeting, for both Unity and Diversity. And they did, as did other home groups in the area, choosing a new home group each month to swap with. And that's how Unity and Diversity finally connected with each other, and all the NA home groups in their area.

A Tale of Two Home Groups

Once upon a time there were two home groups: Unity and Diversity. They were part of a large NA area with so many meetings you might never get to them all.

One day, at Unity's home group business meeting, a home group member shared, "I have this flier about some kind of Home Group Speaker Swap. Should we try it?" After some discussion they decided to try it.

So they came up with some dates they could host another home group and some days that at least some of them could travel to another meeting, and then they signed up for the Home Group Speaker Swap at www.CapitalAreaNCNA.com/HGSS.

A week later Unity got an email with a list of other home groups that had signed up, and noticed that the Diversity home group was on the list. Since no one in Unity had ever been to Diversity or knew any of their members (it was all the way across town), they decided to contact them and arrange a swap. Soon the two groups agreed on dates, and both were very excited.

When Unity members finally spoke at Diversity and vice versa they had to get a bit creative. Neither had ever had a speaker meeting before, and having multiple speakers in one meeting was unusual for this area. But in the end, it went great! The members of Unity and Diversity felt connected to each other, the area, and NA as a whole, in a way they had never felt before!

'Let's do it again!' was the group conscience at the next business meeting, for both Unity and Diversity. And they did, as did other home groups in the area, choosing a new home group each month to swap with. And that's how Unity and Diversity finally connected with each other, and all the NA home groups in their area.

A Tale of Two Home Groups

Once upon a time there were two home groups: Unity and Diversity. They were part of a large NA area with so many meetings you might never get to them all.

One day, at Unity's home group business meeting, a home group member shared, "I have this flier about some kind of Home Group Speaker Swap. Should we try it?" After some discussion they decided to try it.

So they came up with some dates they could host another home group and some days that at least some of them could travel to another meeting, and then they signed up for the Home Group Speaker Swap at www.CapitalAreaNCNA.com/HGSS.

A week later Unity got an email with a list of other home groups that had signed up, and noticed that the Diversity home group was on the list. Since no one in Unity had ever been to Diversity or knew any of their members (it was all the way across town), they decided to contact them and arrange a swap. Soon the two groups agreed on dates, and both were very excited.

When Unity members finally spoke at Diversity and vice versa they had to get a bit creative. Neither had ever had a speaker meeting before, and having multiple speakers in one meeting was unusual for this area. But in the end, it went great! The members of Unity and Diversity felt connected to each other, the area, and NA as a whole, in a way they had never felt before!

'Let's do it again!' was the group conscience at the next business meeting, for both Unity and Diversity. And they did, as did other home groups in the area, choosing a new home group each month to swap with. And that's how Unity and Diversity finally connected with each other, and all the NA home groups in their area.

A Tale of Two Home Groups

Once upon a time there were two home groups: Unity and Diversity. They were part of a large NA area with so many meetings you might never get to them all.

One day, at Unity's home group business meeting, a home group member shared, "I have this flier about some kind of Home Group Speaker Swap. Should we try it?" After some discussion they decided to try it.

So they came up with some dates they could host another home group and some days that at least some of them could travel to another meeting, and then they signed up for the Home Group Speaker Swap at www.CapitalAreaNCNA.com/HGSS.

A week later Unity got an email with a list of other home groups that had signed up, and noticed that the Diversity home group was on the list. Since no one in Unity had ever been to Diversity or knew any of their members (it was all the way across town), they decided to contact them and arrange a swap. Soon the two groups agreed on dates, and both were very excited.

When Unity members finally spoke at Diversity and vice versa they had to get a bit creative. Neither had ever had a speaker meeting before, and having multiple speakers in one meeting was unusual for this area. But in the end, it went great! The members of Unity and Diversity felt connected to each other, the area, and NA as a whole, in a way they had never felt before!

'Let's do it again!' was the group conscience at the next business meeting, for both Unity and Diversity. And they did, as did other home groups in the area, choosing a new home group each month to swap with. And that's how Unity and Diversity finally connected with each other, and all the NA home groups in their area.